I would like to serve on the Judicial Nominating Commission because I have been looking for a way to contribute to the legal community in the State of Tennessee as well as to the general public above and beyond my current community and pro bono legal activities. I believe that I possess a practical, common sense approach to the selection of our judges in Tennessee due to my time in both the courtroom and in the business world. I think our legal system shouldn't be a consequence of or a burden on our personal and business relationships, but a tool to allow us to define those relationships when doubt arises in those situations. I think our courts should be places of conciliation and mediation, not revenge or caprice.
